A Note FROM THE TEAM

The summer holidays start this month – that means Christmas and the New Year are not far behind. This is a great time of the year to relax and refresh, and we have all the details for the end of year celebrations happening in our community.

Two of the biggest (but not the only) pre-Christmas events are the Jingle All The Bay Festival and the Bracken Ridge Christmas Carols Spectacular. Jingle All The Bay will no doubt be bigger and better this year. See the lit-up shop fronts of 4017 businesses, food trucks and market stalls lining the sidewalk, and roaming entertainment and the parade floats moving through the main street. The Bracken Ridge Christmas Carols Spectacular is back too, and is offering an illuminating experience for their audience this year, with LED bracelets available that will light-up the audience during the carols.

Environmentally inclined music-lovers should head along to the Boondall Wetlands Environment Centre's grand opening, where there'll be jazz, a sausage sizzle, guided walks and an up-close look at the centre's native animals.

The Australia Day celebrations in January will be held a little later in the day (because of the heat). This very popular, locally-sponsored day is something to look forward to, with an afternoon community barbecue and a great fun-filled day by the bay.

The team here at the Sandgate Guide wish all our readers a very Merry Christmas and a safe and Happy New Year!

See you in February 2020.

Youth Theatre Group Proposed For Sandgate

Aspiring young actors and actresses from 4017 may be interested in hearing that a new youth theatre group has been proposed for Sandgate.

Members from Sandgate Theatre Inc. met late last month, to talk about a proposal for a youth theatre group – what was required as part of the planning phase and what a program for youth theatre may look like.

The group is calling for anyone interested in helping, with the planning for a potential youth theatre movement in Sandgate, to let them know.

Christine Linning, who has been a member of the Sandgate Theatre group for almost 30 years, said discussions about youth theatre classes followed keen interest in the initiative from parents in the area.

"At this year's display at the Einbunpin Festival we were asked by many parents if we had youth theatre as part of our company," Christine said.

"Youth theatre would help to give children more self-confidence, self-esteem, experience in working as part of a team, public speaking confidence, patience and an excellent opportunity to learn all about the theatre.

"The classes would introduce the children to theatre technique, script reading, voice projection, dance and choreography."

Christine said that, while the classes would be guided by qualified tutors, the sessions would be designed for children to have fun.

"At this stage, we are thinking about holding two one-hour classes; one class for children aged five to 10 years-old and then another class for children 10 years-old and over," she said.

During the next few months, members of Sandgate Theatre will be looking at the planning for a youth theatre program and firming up what the cost of classes would be, lesson times and potential tutors.

Sandgate Theatre Inc. is also on the lookout for a new venue for rehearsals and meetings. Ideally the adult and youth divisions of Sandgate Theatre Inc. would be run out of the same venue.

If anyone has an appropriate venue in mind or would like to get involved with the planning for a youth theatre, please contact Christine on 0417 704 962 or the Sandgate Theatre group via their website www.sandgatetheatre.net

Bracken Ridge Christmas Carols

SPECTACULAR

Story Sally Gordon

Organisers of the annual Bracken Ridge Christmas Carols Spectacular, this year, plan on illuminating the audience in a new and immersive concert experience.

One thousand wireless-controlled, multicoloured LED bracelets will be available for purchase on the night, for audience members keen to become part of the show. The wristbands will be pre-programmed and change colours in rhythm with the carols and on stage activity.

Bracken Ridge Baptist Church pastor, Graham Wray, said the LED bracelets formed part of the show's theme 'the light has come' and would make the event more interactive for the audience.

"The bracelets are controlled by the lighting operator, and when each bracelet changes colour, people wearing certain colours will be asked to do something," he said. "Dancers in the show also will be wearing them."

The Bracken Ridge Carols Spectacular, hosted by the Bracken Ridge Baptist Church, is one of 4017's most popular Christmas events. The 2019 event is expected to attract between 3,000-5,000 people.

Concert goers can expect singing, dancing, performances from local talent and fireworks.

Pastor Wray said the Christmas event's choir was a 50-person ensemble, including singers from the Multitude Community Choir, Counterpoint Choir and members of the Baptist Church Choir.

"Carols on the night will be a mixture of traditional songs and a modern reimagining of carols," he said.

Adding to the entertainment will be over 10 food trucks, markets with an array of gifts, toys and locally-made products, as well as some Ekka-styled games for the youngsters to enjoy. Fireworks kick off at 8.20pm.

The event is free to attend and the LED bracelets will be on sale for $5. Visitors are encouraged to park in the nearby TAFE car park and walk down to the Norris Road State School oval.

Last year's Jingle All the Bay attracted 8000 people to Sandgate's main street.

MERRY & Bright

Sandgate will be lit up like a Christmas tree for the annual Jingle All The Bay event.

Story Brooke Jacobson Photos Paul Neil

Now in its fourth year, Jingle All The Bay has become a signature event for the 4017 community, and for Sandgate and Districts Chamber of Commerce president, Bill Gollan, it's going from strength to strength.

"We love seeing our local businesses decorated for Christmas," he said.

"Last year we had about 80 per cent of businesses doing Christmas lights in their windows and I think this year we're going to have a full house doing it, which is great.

"Also last year, we expanded Jingle All The Bay, extending from the Post Office Hotel on Rainbow Street all the way up Brighton Road and we'll be doing that again, it was so successful - we had 8000 people here and we hope to increase on that this year."

This bayside community event will feature a range of food trucks, market stalls and live entertainment, as well as the parade.

"The parade gets bigger each year as well and already we have a number of floats confirmed," Bill said.

"That's going to be massive and I hope everyone is looking forward to it.

"We're going to have a massive range of food trucks, as well as of course, all our amazing local food businesses; we're going to have heaps of market stalls where you can buy all kinds of Christmas goods — everything from baubles for your tree, to cakes, to gifts for pretty much everyone in the family.

"It's a great chance to buy local and do some Christmas shopping."

There will also be an opportunity to say hello to Santa and give him your Christmas wish list, plus 'Santa Paws' photos for the furry members of the family, alongside community stalls and children's rides.

Bill freely admitted he was an "absolute sucker for Christmas".

"You could say I'm a Christmas tragic, so I just love this event," he laughed.

It's great for businesses and the community, and you know, people have really grabbed on to it; they believe in it and it brings people to our community.

"People come here and they see our beautiful bayside-town lifestyle and it's great that we can tap into that."

Pokies Given the Kick

Story Renee McKeown

The only game good enough for Sandgate Hawks is Aussie rules, since the club kicked out poker machines recently.

Over the past month, the club's pokies and licences were sold and a new strategy was announced.

Sandgate Hawks' president, Scott Albury, said gaming machines were no longer feasible for the club.

"We were down in revenue, coming in from gaming, and to fix it we had to upgrade the machines, and we didn't have the money to do that or compete with some of the bigger places," he said.

"Also, there was a lot of slant – coming from the community from people who aren't into gaming – about addiction; there was a big split about that.

"The challenge we now face is how to manage this... we have to raise money to support our footy teams without a fully licenced venue.

"Any hurdle you step through you worry about, but we're in a good space."

There are nearly 500 juniors and more than 100 players (over 18) including mens and women's teams. Sandgate Hawks, which started in 1943, has a growing team base and plenty of upgrades underway.

"We've seen a real increase in participation from young girls and ladies with the surge of AFLW," Mr Albury said.

"We've been fortunate to receive grants from all levels of government for our dressing sheds, which should be finished by mid-January.

"That project was around making sure we had adequate space for boys and girls."

The Sandgate Hawks summer skills' programs just started with big hopes for their 2020 season in March.

They also run Lions Academy youth football and a program to promote the participation of new Australians in the sport.

Mr Albury said things were on the up and now all the money raised would go directly into supporting football and their future.

"It's exciting, but there's plenty to do and we need many hands to get the job done," he said.

"This means that the Hawks become a community run, volunteer operated, family football club."

2020

Story Hellen White

The end of another decade; how will you ring in the New Year? Here are ideas for a memorable end to 2019 and a fabulous start to 2020.

The Full Moon Hotel

Come along for a fabulous night of Cuban entertainment. The hotel is having a Havana night. Think tropical attire, fedoras and white shirts for the guys, mojitos and chef Richard's famous Cuban Mojo Chicken.

Four-piece Cuban band, Cubaneia, will be playing from 8pm until the midnight countdown. For the young at heart, learn the basics of Latin dances from Mivida Movement of the My Little Havana Dance Company from 7.30pm.

Lucinda Black, hotel director, said, "Fun dance lessons will be in the main bar.

"The event is free; no tickets required. However, if you are staying for dinner, it would be highly recommended to make a table reservation. However, if you are just wanting to drop in for a drink, watch the band and hit the dance floor, no reservations are required."

*The hotel is licensed until 2am.
118 Eagle Terrace, Sandgate

Brighton Hotel

The Brighton Hotel is kicking off the festivities with a New Year's-themed trivia night and the chance to win $500! Wouldn't that be a great start 2020 with?

Charlie's Bistro will be open from 5.30 till 9pm. Trivia will kick off at 7.30pm. With $500 worth of prizes and give-aways, it's worth honing your trivia knowledge.

Then, dance the year away with house music, before raising a ruckus with whistles, poppas and blowers at midnight, and a glass of bubbles, on the house. Accommodation is available, should you want to party hard.

The hotel is open for normal trading on New Year's Day, for recovery in air-conditioned comfort.

So Much Fun at Salvos' Annual Christmas Party

If the sound of rides, a photo with Santa, an animal farm and fairy floss have your children jumping up and down with excitement, then you won't want to miss the Salvation Army North Brisbane's annual Christmas party.

The free community event kicks off at 4pm on Sunday 8 December, featuring a raft of activities, entertainment and carols for families keen to get into the Christmas spirit early.

Event organiser from the Salvation Army North Brisbane Church, Karyn Woodford, said the Community Christmas Celebration, was a great family event with loads of free activities and a variety of food options to purchase.

"We've got free rides, free Santa photos, a free animal farm, free photo booth, free fairy floss, free cupcake decorating and so much more," Karyn said. "We'll put on a sausage sizzle, there'll be hamburgers, hot chips, curry in a cup, a coffee van, cakes, milkshakes and a lolly stall."

Karyn encouraged partygoers to bring a blanket or chair for the popular carols on the lawn that start at 7.15pm. The carols will be led by the Salvation Army's worship team leader, Shelden Mathieson, and a group of singers from the church.

Nine members of the QCWA Sandgate branch recently completed a four-day tour to Charleville in support of the Year of the Outback and meeting many of their Country members along the way.

The group travelled along the outback roads, past parched paddocks and dry dams, emphasising the impact of the current drought conditions. On arrival at Chinchilla, they met with members of the Chinchilla and Wychie QCWA branches over lunch, before travelling to their overnight stay in Roma.

They visited Roma's Largest Bottle Tree and many of the local attractions. After a tour of the historical town of Roma, they joined members of the QCWA Roma branch for lunch in celebration of their Country of Study International Day and discuss shared experiences of life in the outback.

The group then travelled onto Charleville. After visiting the Royal Flying Doctor Service Visitor Centre and other local attractions, they had an enjoyable lunch with members of the QCWA Charleville branch.

The group completed over 1500 kms in their four-day adventure, and CWA Sandgate's Lynette Watson, relayed their experiences as "heartbreaking to see the land so devastated from the drought," and inspired that "our outback communities are very resilient and wonderful people."

"The people we met were very welcoming and so happy we had made the journey to visit and support their communities."

Free Family Fun Day Celebrating Our Nation

Story Brooke Jacobson

There are going to be some changes to Sandgate's 2020 Australia Day celebrations, but the spirit of fun and community will remain the same. Deagon Ward councillor Jared Cassidy, who is hosting the day, alongside State Member for Sandgate, Stirling Hinchliffe, and Federal MP for Lilley, Anika Wells, said the Australia Day by the Bay festival was a welcoming and friendly celebration.

It's a special day for our community, welcoming new citizens in the morning at the Sandgate Town Hall and then play some beach cricket in the afternoon," Cr Cassidy said.

"No matter how you mark January 26, this is a real celebration of our diverse community."

The main change to the day will be the starting time, with events kicking off at around 3pm at the Volunteer Marine Rescue grounds at Shorncliffe.

"We're looking at an expansion of the free community fun day that we have had in previous years and we're starting later in the day, as it's simply so hot at that time of year," Cr Cassidy said.

Activities could include a sandcastle building competition, fishing activities, water slides and stand up paddle boarding, as well as a jumping castle.

"There will be live entertainment as well and following from the successful Youth Festival, we'd like to have some of young musicians performing on the day," Cr Cassidy said.

"There will be a free barbecue, the VMR will have the bar open and we're looking at the possibility of an open-air movie with free ice-cream and popcorn.

"This is the first year that Stirling, Anika and I have run this event together as a team and with the refocus on the awards and on the citizenship ceremony, I think it's going to be a great day.

"We'll be welcoming 60 or so new Australians which is always very special."

Jazzy Opening of New Centre

Story Renee McKeown

The cool sounds of jazz will waft through the trees at the $6.5 million Boondall Wetlands Environment Centre grand opening on Sunday, 8 December.

There will be music, a sausage sizzle, traditional ceremony, guided walks and the opportunity to get up-close to native animals as Brisbane City Council unveils the new facility.

Flugelhorn player, Jason Nyenhof, will be part of a music quartet performing on the day.

"We're looking forward to being out in the open air and being part of one of the council events," Jason said.

"Jazz is a good match for any occasion; it brings people together – so it's the perfect scenario musically.

"We have been studying at JMI (Jazz Music Institute), and playing together for two years, but only came together as a quartet about six months ago.

"(Our performance) is all straight ahead jazz which means it's jazz standards and originals; we're inspired by the cool sound of West Coast jazz.

"I have not been to the wetlands since they've built the new centre, so I'm looking forward to playing there."

Along with the jazz performance there will also be a wildlife expert on site, and a gentle guided walk is planned for around the Billai Dhagun circuit, to learn about the shorebirds who call the wetlands home.

Lord Mayor Adrian Schrinner said the new facility will create more for residents and visitors to see and do, while protecting the natural environment.

"BCC worked closely with residents and local businesses throughout the consultation process, to create a family-friendly destination that can be enjoyed by the whole community now and into the future," he said.

"The new centre aims to showcase the ecological significance and values of Brisbane's northern wetlands and its connection with Moreton Bay.

"The centre will have plenty of new features, including flexible activity spaces and interactive educational displays, and Council has updated on-site facilities, including the entrance road and car park."

It took two years for planning and consultation, with construction starting on the project in April this year.

A WORD FROM OUR REPRESENTATIVES

Cr Jared Cassidy

The next two months will be a busy time in our community, with Christmas, New Years and our annual Australia Day by the Bay celebrations all just around the corner! This time of year is always special in our community for me. I get to attend awards' nights and graduations at local schools and so many different Christmas celebrations right across the Northside. Whether it's the South Pacific Islander Christmas in the Park, Carols by the Bay or checking out the lights at the Uniting Church in Deagon, to name a few, there will be plenty to do this festive season.

Australia Day by the Bay will be bigger and better this year, with more free family activities down at the VMR on Cabbage Tree Creek than ever before. Check out all the details in this Sandgate Guide.

Finally, I would like to wish you, your family and friends a very merry Christmas and a safe and happy new year. I look forward to continuing to work for you in 2020.

Queensland's new Plastic Pollution Reduction Plan – what do you think? As you know, last year the Queensland Government banned plastic bags and introduced the Container Refund Scheme to reduce litter and encourage recycling.

Research shows seven out of ten people already take steps to reduce their use of single-use plastics, but there is always more we can do to tackle pollution. The government's new Plastic Pollution Reduction Plan is the next step in helping Queenslanders fight the war on waste. This plan is an Australian first in its scope and structure, and one of its actions is to introduce legislation next year, to ban the supply of plastic products including plastic straws, cutlery, plates and stirrers. All of these single-use plastic items, we propose to ban, have a preferred and available reusable or 100% compostable alternative. Other actions in the Plastic Pollution Reduction Plan include increasing the uptake of recycled plastic materials in new products and investing in plastic recovery and reprocessing. Plastic in the marine environment is long-lived—for example, a 30–40 year old plastic bag was found in a Sunshine Coast waterway. It is hoped locals will take up the aims of the plan with great energy and commitment. For more information, visit: www.qld.gov.au/plasticreduction

You may have recently heard that former Councillor Amanda Cooper resigned from Council to run for State Parliament. As a result, I have taken over her role as Councillor for Bracken Ridge Ward. I look forward to progressing a number of projects in the area which Amanda started, as well as continue to advocate on issues important to our community.

The new Bracken Ridge Library and Ward Office is now open and offering new facilities including meeting rooms for community groups. To book contact the library on 3667 6060.

It has been a pleasure to attend a number of school awards' ceremonies, as the academic year draws to a close. It is often a time of reflection, celebration and excitement for families and I extend my congratulations to all of our senior students who will be embarking on a new journey. To our teachers, teacher aides and support staff, thank you for all your hard work and dedication in 2019. Enjoy your well-earned break over the coming school holidays. There are plenty of free and low cost activities for the whole family to enjoy which are listed on Council's website at www.brisbane.qld.gov.au

Real estate agency, Professionals Sandgate, has created a special calendar for 2020, which features a group of tradies who either live in the 4017 district or have worked in the area, to raise awareness of prostate cancer.

Principal of Professionals Sandgate, Darren Patrick, said the charity project was to help raise funds for the Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia (PCFA). The real estate agency has printed 1000 of the tradie calendars, which are $10 each, and has a goal to raise $10,000 by the end of December for the PCFA.

We launched the calendar with an event at Mr Henderson and the support from the local community has been amazing," Darren said.

"We are planning another event to raise awareness about prostate cancer that will coincide with this year's Jingle all the Bay on Friday, 6 December."

Professionals Sandgate is planning to enter a float in the Jingle All The Bay street parade as well as hold a calendar sale and signing station at the event. The business is encouraging locals to purchase a calendar in support of the PCFA.

"Unfortunately, nearly all the trades who have been involved with our calendar have a personal story about a connection to prostate cancer," Darren said.

Shorncliffe resident, Darrell Harvey, of Sandgate Electrical, said that after having many men in his family affected by prostate cancer, the calendar was an important initiative to be part of and support.

"Prostate cancer runs in my family. All my uncles have had it and my father passed away from it. So, it was very important to me to be a part of this project," Darrell said.

To support this project or to purchase a copy of the calendar visit Professionals 'Sandgate' Facebook page or head to this year's Jingle All The Bay event to cheer on their float and have your calendar signed personally.

Stars Shine Above Bracken Ridge for Christmas

*Story Renee McKeown

An explosion of light and colour will welcome Santa and the community to Bracken Ridge State School in early December.

The annual Christmas Under The Stars Spectacular will have food, markets, fireworks and entertainment, and is expected to raise money for air-conditioned classrooms next year.

Fundraising event organiser, Jo Roberts, said there would be plenty to see and do, as well as a big surprise from Santa on the night.

"It's a fete on a smaller scale - we aren't having rides, but entertainment, markets and great community spirit," she said.

"We have twilight markets with local stallholders and small businesses, community groups, sideshow entertainment, great food and refreshments, train rides, a major raffle with a holiday to the Gold Coast to be won.

"Not forgetting a visit by the man in red, arriving in style, one (surprise) to keep you guessing."

Ms Roberts said she thought it would be a fantastic end to a fantastic year and a great opportunity to celebrate all of their achievements, particularly with improvements to the school.

There are only two buildings in the school without air-conditioning and the Christmas Under the Stars Spectacular will help fix this.

"We are installing air-conditioning to the classrooms in the whole school," Ms Roberts said.

"This year we have contributed over $40,000.

"We hope to end 2019 and kick start 2020 with raising some great funds at this event to install it in the next building."

The event organiser said that other than the fireworks, the student performances were always a highlight, especially for the parents.

"Watching the students and teachers have great fun performing on stage is great," Ms Roberts said.

"We never know (what they will perform) until the day; it's always a great surprise to watch first hand."

The event also features twilight markets, filled with a large variety of items for sale, from eco-friendly and handmade items to Christmas gifts and personalised decorations.

For more details, timetables and information about stallholders search for the free event on Facebook.

Are you ready to improve your hearing and quality of life?

If you have hearing difficulties and need help to hear better, perhaps you might adjust your attitude towards hearing aids.

Here's what some people think ...

"Hearing aids don't bother me one bit. As we get older, we can't hear as well. If we don't take advantage of this technology, then we could spend all our time not understanding and asking others to repeat themselves. Wearing a hearing aid shouldn't be thought of as a handicap. On the contrary, life is more pleasant when you can hear well."

"Some think wearing a hearing aid is an admission to being old and deaf. Well, you can't side step it. A hearing aid might be seen like a marker of such but as we age, we still want to learn, maintain relationships, contribute to society, be mobile, independent and make our own decisions. I say, put on your hearing aid and participate in life."

If you're ready to improve your hearing and quality of life, call our friendly staff at Sandgate Hearing. We'll help you move forward with your hearing needs.

"I love listening to music now..."

My daughter thinks it's wonderful that I don't have to repeat things three times anymore. When watching TV with my husband, he can sit with me in the same room without having the TV blasting at him. Often he sat in a different room when I watched TV. Our Sandgate doctor recommended I see Ronnie at Sandgate Hearing and I'm very grateful he did. It's made a big difference to my life and it's so nice going out! I love listening to music now and it's lovely hearing the birds sing. The admin staff at Sandgate Hearing are amazing and we're just so grateful to Ronnie.

"Whole heartedly recommend..."

I couldn't fault the services of Sandgate hearing and I would whole heartedly recommend anyone with hearing difficulties to them!

I find Ronnie very pleasant to deal with.

He is definitely an expert in his field.

"The magnetic pull of this area has had its effect on me — I am now living and working in the area I love and feel most at home," Rose Kelly said.

The last time she was in Sandgate was 1989, at Hansen and Humble Real Estate in Loudon Street. Although circumstances and life have changed — just like the market and industry — Ms Kelly has decided to return, but this time, to something a little different.

"Our business reflects the modern digital business, which seamlessly integrates into a community — I am constantly asked where our business operates or where the office is located. We are wherever you want us to be," Ms Kelly said.

"I have had career highlights, such as selling local waterfront properties under the hammer, but equally have experienced great excitement in the sale of properties that have proven sticky or challenging to shift for whatever reason.

"We like to think we are the 'Real Estate Problem Solvers' rather than just Listing and Selling Real Estate."

PEACEFUL Holiday

Keep Calm and Create A Living Wreath For Christmas

Christmas can be such a busy time with many demands on us. There is so much to do with the extra shopping, cooking and socialising that the joy of Christmas can be lost in the stress. Wouldn't it be lovely to combine one of your Christmas tasks with an activity that brings you peace and happiness?

Emma Malthouse helps you do exactly that with her workshops that use living plants to create beautiful sustainable Christmas decorations for your own home or as a thoughtful gift. The process of making either a living wreath or kokedama (living plant ball) has many therapeutic properties. Research shows that just looking at greenery is beneficial for your mental health, said Emma.

"I would like to say that I am a green thumb but I'm not, I have just experienced what life can throw at you and discovered the healing power of gardening."

"When it comes to creating a living wreath or kokedama you get to connect with your creative side as well as re-fuelling your mental health and wellbeing."

"Taking a piece of that creativity home with you is a bonus" Emma said.

Living wreaths are made from natural materials where living plants have been bound with organic resources to attach to the wreath. Kokedamas are similar but a ball shape is formed to hang from a vantage point. Emma said that they are simple to make once you have been shown.

"The plants used require minimal maintenance and care so they can continue to grow naturally as a beautiful display."

"It's a real sensory experience whilst learning a new skill."

"What better gift than one which continues to grow" Emma said.

The cost is $65 for the Living Wreath Workshop; $55 for the Kokedama Workshop (take home two kokedamas) - this includes all materials and light refreshments.

Balkanics

► January: The Balkanics

A mix of sheer genius, a bit of wizardry, and a sense of community and connection is a fitting description for the Balkan and Gypsy inspired Balkanics five.

Don't be fooled by the circus-style performance clothes, because every member of the crew is a master performer. The roll of honour: Anthony Pizzica (rezouki, tambura), Linsey Pollak (sax, gaida, clarini), Philip Griffin (electric bass, tambura), Ric Halstead (sax, flute), and Tunji Beier (drums).

Q: Given you're such an innovative crew, what's the vibe of the January 2020 gig in Sandgate?

A: Linsey Pollak: We'll bring the energy of a Balkan Dance band with our own twist and all the excitement that the crazy rhythms of Macedonia offer. I was hugely influenced by the eight months that I spent in Macedonia many years ago, studying Macedonian bagpipes, and this enthusiasm is shared by all band members.

Q: Give us the goods on the nifty gear you all wear?

A: The theme is crazy suits...so we googled crazy suits...that took us on a bit of an online shopping spree to get our wild, colourful array of attire.

Q: What are some of the unusual instruments you play?

A: Gaida - Macedonian bagpipes; Tambura - Macedonian long necked lute; Rezouki - a resonated bouzouki designed, made and played by it's maker, Anthony Pizzica; and Cylisax and hybrid zurna - two wind instruments designed, made and played by their maker, Linsey Pollak.

"Among the plethora of bands playing Balkan and gypsy music in Australia these days, one rarely encounters high-level musicianship so completely intertwined with sheer gusto as is the case with the Balkanics." John Shand - Sydney Morning Herald.

This will be another great soak-up, or dance-out night. Once again, wear some comfy shoes because you just may not be able to sit still.

Deagon Upzone Excluded From Sandgate Plan

Lord Mayor Adrian Schrinner has announced proposed changes to Deagon will be excluded from the draft Sandgate District Neighbourhood Plan.

Consultation to prepare the draft strategy was launched early this year after a community petition requested council update the Neighbourhood Plan in the area to guide future development.

Almost half of all submissions related to rezoning around Deagon train station and a majority of responses raised concerns.

"Based on the intensive consultation undertaken, feedback indicated a strong objection to the idea of allowing any townhouses or units up to three storeys in the immediate vicinity of the Deagon Train Station," Cr Schrinner said.

"I have listened to concerns and as a result I want to assure residents that this aspect will not be included in the Neighbourhood Plan going forward.

"Council also received a lot of submissions expressing views on how to revitalise Sandgate's town centre to ensure the special character of the area is maintained while also creating a vibrant commercial precinct that drives jobs and economic growth.

"All of these views, whatever they are, will be taken into consideration as part of the plan's preparation.

"The draft strategy is based on local community submissions – feedback received on the draft strategy then guides the preparation of the draft Neighbourhood Plan.

"This is only the first step in the consultation process. Residents, businesses and community groups will again have the opportunity in 2020 to have their say on a revised plan.

The next phase of consultation will be next year as Council works to create a draft Neighbourhood Plan for the future of Sandgate, Deagon and Shorncliffe.

CHAMBER Chat

BCC Creative Community Lighting Grants

The chamber is pleased to announce that, finally, we have been approved to be part of the Brisbane City Council creative lighting grants.

The two fig trees on the Rainbow Street were lit at 100% cost by council, two years ago, after representations by the chamber. Since then we have been working on this great project. In our 2020 Vision survey, locals told us that there was a lack of lighting in the area. So far, the cost of this project is approx. $10k. We thank Council for contributing 50% and our great local landlords contributing the other half. We hope that this is the start and others will come on board to give our night-time a makeover.

The trees will be lit up on Friday 30 November, the week before Jingle all the Bay. Look and enjoy! They are located at Coffee Club, Bowser Pde; 2 Mad Sisters, 3rd Ave; Mr Henderson, Brighton Rd; The Professionals, 4th Ave; Fish on Flinders, Flinders Pde.

If any other businesses would like to participate please email secretary@sandgatechamber.com.au

The Long Table - Shorncliffe Pier

Tickets for this event are now on sale on our website and selling fast (they sold out last quickly time too). The event is fast becoming a "must do", with sales from all over SEQ. We are pleased to announce that our caterers, Cuisine on Cue, are back with new and bigger menu. We are currently locking in our entertainment with local boy, Nik Phillips, already confirmed.

WHAT'S Hot AROUND TOWN

Story Jodie Woodward

The weather is warming up and the entertainment in Sandgate is following suit. There's plenty of events to keep you entertained around town this month, while you get ready for the new year to roll around again.

If you want to shop-along to some local tunes, Franco Pre-loved Clothing & Makers Market is back with the Summer edition markets! Come down to Franco's to find pre-loved pieces, coffee, food, live music and artisan-made talent at the Sandgate Scout Hall from 8am–12pm on Saturday 7 December. Follow on Instagram @francomarkets.

For something even more low-key, Mr Henderson presents The Midnight Swim on 7 December. This Brisbane-based duo blends the genres of Jazz, Pop, Funk, Soul, and Blues to create a chilled and relaxing vibe that will be sure to help you unwind during this busy time of the year.

Member of The Midnight Swim, Ash Horth, said the duo loves the community vibe and local feel of playing at Mr Henderson.

"We love how Mr Henderson gets behind local music, especially younger musicians. We love the crowd at the bar too, and we're starting to get to know the familiar faces," Ash said.

While they've played here before, this will be Midnight Swim's first solo performance at the bar.

"We're looking forward to showing off a full set of favourites with our take on some old and new tracks. Expect electric vocals and some classic shredding on guitar!" Ash said.

For more information check out Mr Henderson or The Midnight Swim on Facebook.

Later in the month, you can dust off those dancing shoes again and sing-along to some of your favourite songs from the 70s, 80s and 90s. Just make sure you're ready for a night of rock and roll and then head to Brighton Bowls Club where The Mulhoons will take to the stage on 27 December. Find out more by visiting Brighton Bowls Club on Facebook.

Finally, the Full Moon Hotel will host the unofficial Christmas After Party for Jingle All The Bay, featuring Will Day live on stage from 8pm on Friday, 6 December.

PREECE'S SETTLES IN ON THE PARK.

One of Shorncliffe's most beloved eateries, Cafe on The Park, has relaunched under the experienced ownership of Grant Preece and family, with a fresh new look and name, Preece's On The Park.

Preece's On The Park cafe is the second venture for the family, with popular Redcliffe waterfront cafe, Preece's at The Jetty, an already long-time favourite among locals.

Owner, Grant Preece, said the beautiful former Cafe On The Park building and picturesque location were the main deciding factors, when starting the cafe.

"The history of the building and the feeling of warmth you get when sitting in the cafe and looking out at the amazing view is second to none," he said.

Bec Whitehead

"This is a special place and you get a real sense of pride when driving through and visiting this area.

"People love living here and we are proud to be part of this community."

Grant said everything, from the food to the coffee and even the name, Preece's on the Park is all about family.

"We are a family-owned and run business and have been working together for eight and a half years," he said.

"My brother, Michael, and his wife, Chris, are in charge of the food and they bake all our amazing cakes and sweets, while my sister, Sandi, and I are in charge of the front of house operations and pump out great Merlo coffee time after time.

"Between the four of us we have over 90 years of hospitality experience, ranging from pubs, cafés, bakeries and fast food venues."

Preece's On The Park officially opened its doors at the end of October after a mini-facelift. It has welcomed great feedback from customers, old and new, who have been impressed with the café's culinary offerings and warm customer experiences.

"We offer delicious home-made cakes with lots of gluten free options, Merlo coffee and great café-style food," Grant said.

"We make as much food as possible on-site, including our popular vanilla slices, which are one of our signature desserts.

"It is also very important to us to try and recruit people who have a passion for customers – we like to get to know our regulars by name and even orders."

For more information on Preece's On The Park visit their Facebook page.

Performing at last year's Carols by the Bay is the combined Sandgate, Nashville and Brighton state schools choir.

CAROL NIGHT Ready To Glow

Story Renee McKeown

Glow sticks and carols will help three schools ring in the Christmas cheer in Sandgate on Thursday 5 December.

Carols by the Bay will see students from Sandgate, Nashville and Brighton state schools sing together at Einbunpin Lagoon.

Cr Jared Cassidy said it would be a fun family night because the real focus was on the children from local schools.

"For decades this event has been a great family night out in Sandgate," he said. "I remember attending carols in Sandgate with my family growing up and later singing in my school choir.

"This event hasn't lost any of its magic."

Cr Cassidy will team up with State Member for Sandgate, Stirling Hinchliffe, and for the first time Federal Member, Anika Wells, will carry on the tradition of former Member for Lilley, Wayne Swan.

The performances will start at 6pm, with the Multitude Choir and then the two combined school choirs will go on stage.

Once again, the students will be accompanied by the Pine Rivers Municipal Brass Band.

"We will (also) have a sausage sizzle, coffee, drinks, lions Christmas cakes and a special visit from Santa – and free glow sticks," Cr Cassidy added.

Tinkering With New Café

Story Renee McKeown

Repair Café members aim to curb the throw-away culture, by bringing back regular repairing and tinkering sessions in Sandgate.

About 30 volunteers have put their hands up to join the first Repair Café in Brisbane, a worldwide phenomenon which first started in the Netherlands 10 years ago.

There are now more than 1,500 Repair Cafés globally, where people share their skills by fixing broken household items, guided by skilled volunteers.

For Sandgate residents, the idea to form a new group was started by Dan Martens, who was soon joined by Juliet Reny and Mardi McNeal.

"We have been overwhelmed with the groundswell of support we've received. People are really keen to see this initiative up and running in our district," Mr Martens said.

The group held a soft start in November, and have already fixed an amplifier volume knob, a cloth bag, blunt mower blades, loose hedge shears, a broken mower handle and two porcelain figurines.

Repair Café Sandgate will officially launch to the broader community in 2020; providing a regular, free meeting place where people can fix just about anything that can be carried in by one person, with the exception of 240 volt electrical wiring.

HISTORY

OUR TWO "MISS" SANDGATES

Claire Payne was chosen as Miss Sandgate in 1948, and was an entrant in the Miss Australia Quest, raising funds for the Queensland Ambulance Transport Brigade.

Claire Lihou (nee Payne) turned 91 in October. She grew up at Payne's Garage on the corner of Rainbow Street and Washington Street (now Connolly's Garage). She is an active participant in the "Sandgate Voices from the Past" project.

Miss Sandgate is also the name of a Linton Hope Rater vessel, one of a 22-ft "one design" class, derived from a "1- Rater" designed by innovative English designer, Linton Hope.

The Raters were first adopted by the Royal Queensland Yacht Club in 1910, followed by the Sandgate Yacht Club from 1914 up until 1957, and in Bowen in the late 1940s. The first vessels were built by A.J. Whearet & Sons and Norman Wright & Sons.

Miss Sandgate was built by Ted Rice of Sandgate. Ted sailed her up until he died at the tiller, aged 71. She continued to be sailed in the Vintage Yacht Regattas at Sandgate, until donated to the museum by Ted's wife, Margaret, in May 1992.

Miss Sandgate is in original condition, and has been left as she was on her last race at the Vintage Yacht Regatta, QCYC, Sandgate, in May 1991.

Like many of Hope's designs, the Raters have a retractable rudder that fits into a slot through the deck and hull. They were originally rigged as gaff cutters, with a bowsprit. Later boats had gunter rigs with no bowsprit.

NEIGHBOURHOOD PLAN DEBATE

State local government minister and Member for Sandgate, Stirling Hinchliffe, has waded into the debate over Brisbane City Council's draft neighbourhood plan.

Releasing a statement on his Facebook page, Mr Hinchliffe said he would normally "resist getting involved in matters that are Council issues."

"However, as member for Sandgate, I need to make my position on the Sandgate and districts Neighbourhood Plan clear," he wrote.

"Disappointingly, there are some people misrepresenting what I have said about it, on social media, so it is better that I be clear."

Mr Hinchliffe said he welcomed BCC initiating a process to consider the planning environment for the area, and that he had not made any submission on the draft strategy.

"In response to the reality of population growth in our city, I support higher residential densities in the right places (note, not 'high density' – a different thing)," the statement read.

"I do not think that a simple increase of the currently permitted four storeys to six storeys in Brighton Road, Sandgate will work.

"I do welcome the intent of strengthening the connection between Brighton Road and the waterfront.

"I have expressed to some constituents ... I am concerned that City Hall have not resourced this Neighbourhood Plan well. I reserve the right, as your local MP, to raise these concerns at the appropriate time but would welcome efforts by BCC to correct this."

CELEBS IN THE 4017

Keen-eyed locals have spotted some of the country's best-known celebrities in the Sandgate area in recent weeks.

Gardening Australia host, Costa Georgiadis, was seen enjoying the sunshine at waterfront café Baiaa, while rugby league superstar, Johnathan Thurston, spent some time in Brighton filming a TV commercial. JT happily posed for photos with some lucky young fans.

Channel 10's current Bachelorette, Angie Kent, has a long-standing connection to Sandgate. She's been a regular client of a local medisp, Anita East, for almost two years. You can follow Angie on instagram @angiekent\_ to keep up to date with her latest news.

READ ALL ABOUT IT

Upgrades to the Sandgate Library are on track to be completed by Christmas. The library will feature a new children's area, as well as more space for people to work and a reading lounge. Staff will also enjoy a more efficient office area. There will also be new carpet, fresh paint, new shelving, furniture and a drinking fountain.

Story Brooke Jacobson

With just a few brushstrokes, you can paint your cares away at a new art class in Sandgate. A Painter's Dream, run by local couple, James and Rebecca de Vries, is offering a painting class with a difference, just in time for Christmas.

"What we really focus on is health and well-being and self-care," James said. "You don't need to be an experienced artist or painter, anyone can come along."

Participants will take home their own original artwork titled "Dragonfly Moon".

"We paint right alongside the group and it's an easy step-by-step process," Rebecca said. "We're with you from start to finish and you're free to add anything else you like to the painting – change the colours, or add in some smaller dragonflies or butterflies."

"We get a lot of people who are nervous, but it's a chance to explore something different."

"There's a real mindfulness to it and that's what we focus on."

A Painter's Dream will be running regular classes in Sandgate in 2020, as well as workshops for kids during the school holidays.

Lighting up the Christmas Spirit

Story Brooke Jacobson

Sandgate's Uniting Church will once again be a beacon for the Christmas spirit, with their famous festive lights display.

Reverend Anne Hulbert said it took three months to get the church ready for the most wonderful time of the year. "We start getting organised in September and we have a lot of Saturday morning working bees," she said.

"We honestly just really love it, it's so much fun."

Each year the church has a different theme for the Christmas display. This year, it's "peace to you".

"So that can mean peace for the world, which is very much needed right now," Rev Hulbert said.

"Or it can mean enjoying the peace and serenity of the season with your family."

The Uniting Church enters the 4KQ Christmas Lights competition each year, but for Rev Hulbert, it's not about winning.

"It's about doing something for the community and the local community really owns this event now," she said.

"We've been doing the lights for 35 years now, and if we win the competition we do get a lot more visitors, but really it's not about winning at all."

Outside lights display: December 4 to 25, 7pm to 10pm; Chapel displays, stalls and entertainment: December 12 to 23 from 7pm.

DANCING INTO Christmas

Story Sondra Grainger

While we struggle with the concept of Christmas decorations in department stores as early as September, for some, the planning starts long before then. That's the situation local dance instructor, Natalie Human, faces each year as she assists in the choreography for the Lord Mayor's Christmas Carols.

"We start creative planning in May. The casting call for auditions is in July and the audition process throughout August", Natalie said. "We started choreography in October and rehearsals commenced in November. The thought process never really ends though. We are often creating new ideas for the following year as we are rolling out the current year."

"The greatest challenge we face is the audition process. We see 800+ dancers from 3 – 18 years of age and we can only accept around 200 for the variety of roles. There is an incredible amount of local talent and each year we are blown away with the skill we see. Such little professionals, who are all so enthusiastic for the event, it makes our job very hard."

"As the Lord Mayor's Christmas Carols is for live television, our brief can change at any moment from the producers and we have to restructure and rethink our performing strategies very quickly; so, that's always a challenge but it's par for the course in performing arts – never a dull moment!"

Natalie was Inspired by her grandmother, and began ballet, jazz and tap, aged five. "Most visits to Grandma's ended in tap dancing lessons in the kitchen."

It was a move to Singapore that gave Natalie an opportunity to broaden her teaching skills. "I was able to teach across a number of educational bodies during my time there. The language of dance is universal but your teaching methods have to adapt to each student so working across a variety of cultures in a multi-cultural city like Singapore was very beneficial in expanding my teaching abilities."

Currently teaching at Footlights Dance Studio, Deagon, Natalie is thrilled to be working with local children, "The carols are such a wonderful community event for individuals and dance studios, we are privileged to work with over 200 dancers, of all ages, across Brisbane and beyond every year."

Snakes Come Out of Hiding

Staff at a Northside pizza shop got a big surprise recently, when they found an eastern brown snake curled up in their kitchen.

From that kitchen in Samford, all the way to the sandy bayside beaches, snake season officially started heating up in October/November.

Northside Snake Removals catcher, Nico de Rooy, said the pizza shop staff did the right thing by keeping their distance and calling an expert.

"It was in the kitchen, when they called me," Mr de Rooy said.

He said that during this year's peak snake season, they've seen more activity in the area.

"The snakes were moving around more than normal, with the extra heat and lack of water.

"Most of the males have been out fighting for females and are now in the breeding stage, if not already finished. This time of year is when we will start seeing baby snakes emerging.

"Places snakes will hide or be found are in bushes, amongst yard rubbish and clutter, near pools looking for water, rock walls or out in the open if they are moving around."

However residents have nothing to fear according to the snake catcher.

"They're (usually) out in the open, in gardens and at front doors," Mr de Rooy said.

"If you see a snake, (and it is safe to do so) send a photo, so I can see what it is.

"Stand back, don't move around, they usually just move on. The majority of people who get bitten are trying to catch or kill them.

"Everyone is brought up to fear snakes, but it is not necessary; if you stay clear of them, they're pretty safe."

Mr de Rooy said he got into the industry because snakes "are incredible creatures".

I'm trying to save and help as many as I can, because people have the wrong opinion of them," he said. "They're so different from every other animal and very misunderstood.

"I've always been fascinated by them and watching Steve Irwin when I was younger."

Mr de Rooy said he's had a lot of calls to catch snakes this year, "I have been busy as there has been a lot of eastern brown snakes and Red bellies around the Northside of Brisbane recently."

YOUNG STAR ON THE RISE

Story Wayne I Flack

When a fifteen-year-old tells you she will be a Grand Slam Champion you stand up and pay attention. Especially when her coach states she will probably achieve this in six years.

Maliyah Vili, an up and coming young tennis player, attends Lifetime Tennis Academy at the Bracken Ridge Tennis Centre.

Maliyah said she had no idea what tennis was, when her mum first took her along and introduced her to the game, at the age of five.

"I think I was playing for about a month when I joined my coach Gary Stickler here, who I believe is the best and I have never considered going anywhere else."

"I really want to be a tennis player, and when I win a Grand Slam that will make me tough mentally and help me to relax and go on to do more," Maliyah said.

Her mum, a former basketballer, said Maliyah had never complained or suggested she didn't want to keep playing.

"She has only started to voice her aspirations lately, so something has changed and made her start looking ahead," Mrs Vili said.

The key to Maliyah's game is power, like her idol Serena Williams. She has put this strength on show, recently, winning both the Eastside and Sunshine Coast Opens.

With her confidence soaring, Maliyah will now head to Melbourne for the December Showdown. These incorporate the age group Nationals and wildcard playoffs for the Australian Open.

Gary Stickler, former coach of Pat Rafter, said Maliyah was a strong personality, who was very committed with a true love for the game.

"Maliyah's an independent individual with her own mind, which is very important, because you've got to be your own person and a little different to other people if you want to be good at something," Gary said.

Maliyah attends coaching each weekday, and runs every second day. She goes through rigorous sessions with fitness guru, Francis, at Lifetime Tennis and cardio with her dad, who played rugby.

When asked if she had any other childhood heroes outside of tennis, Maliyah answered without hesitation, "My parents."

A man wearing a white t-shirt, dark shorts, a baseball cap, and sunglasses stands in a grassy area next to a pond. He is holding a dark-colored fish, identified as a Tilapia, with both hands. The pond's surface is calm, reflecting the sky and the surrounding trees. In the background, there are more trees and some buildings under a cloudy sky.

FISH OF THE MONTH

It's Tilapia Time

Story Peter Hansler

Some of you may know about, or have read my articles on Tilapia before; well here is a reminder. Now is the time to go and catch a few! They are very active and are breeding, in the warm weather.

These “cane toads of the waterways” are in almost all of the creeks, ponds and water catchments in our area and are causing havoc to our local native fish populations. They are good fun to catch on light gear and great for kids to learn about fishing and identifying pests in our environment. These fish must be euthanised and disposed of, away from the water as soon as practical and cannot be let go, taken home or eaten!

My preference is to catch them with garden worms, on a size 8 hook under a small float. The float, being visual, is a lot more exciting for the kids than just throwing out the line and waiting. My rig has a sliding float with a rubber band stopper that slides up and down the line for the desired depth. Most of the time it's only about 30cm deep.

There are now some very popular local “pest” fishing competitions being held to get rid of these fish and to reintroduce natives, such as Australian Bass with the proceeds.

Please make sure you can fish the area you choose; there are a few parks with “no fishing” signs. If you are unsure, don't hesitate to contact me for places to fish.

*Peter Hansler is a local “fish enthusiast” who promotes and educates about our native fish and responsible angling via his website rainbowrunner.ausfish.com.au. All roofs age over time. After around 15 years, tile roofs deteriorate to the point where a restoration should be considered. At this age, colour starts to fade, ridge capping becomes brittle, lichen and mould can grow, and tiles become harder to clean. The appearance of your home suffers and your roof is more likely to develop leaks.

Richard Gabriel from Mr Highlights Roofing has over 20 years experience in the roofing trade. He uses only premium quality products for his restorations, and offers a full 10 year warranty on all workmanship and materials.
